

Die Arbeit gegen die Kunst

we go to artist residences together the way others would go on vacation

I have to stop all my projects, and live just with my work its like a prison in fact

I then spent several hours to work on a few melodies while scanning my customers goods

I feel ridiculous, pathetic sometimes, working this job

I still don't know if I worked because I like doing this

I was a worker in Germany and I am an artist in Romania

Sometimes it is important to have a kind of strategy with my status as a cleaner I have a privileged place as observer of this industrial space

I believe that an artist always leads a double life of sorts

When I am inspired by this madness, I found it easy to express my feelings through my artistic work (art and work) have contributed to structuring my social experience
